

Ellereve

Ellereve, alias of german singer-songwriter Elisa Giulia Teschner, blooms amongst the austrian alps surrounding Innsbruck. Here, the talented artist developed her truly distinctive style, rich of emotional urgency and longing.

With the recent release of her debut album 'Reminiscence' via Eisenwald Records, the artist proves once again how skillfully intimacy and intensity can be united. Electronically refined Dark Rock with Folk and Shoegaze influences, melt into each other and create an almost post-apocalyptic atmosphere of gloom and soulful harmony. On several (international) stages like Amplifest Porto, Rockhouse Salzburg, WGT Leipzig, Feierwerk Munich, KAPU Linz and many more, Ellereve has captivated her audience and provides goosebumps moments.

After her debut EP 'Heart Murmurs' and further singles in the last years, Ellereve's sound has become even more powerful, with the new material blending electronic music elements into organic composition. "My songs are still mostly written late at night, in my living room, when a melody on guitar or synth inspires me to develop something. But before hitting the studio, I finalize the songs in the rehearsal room with the live band." The poetry of Ellereve is delicate and strong at the same time, remaining intense in its crescendo. A true ode to heart-treading melancholy, undoubtedly the music of Ellereve unveils the unique, strong personality of its architect, stunningly portrayed through a delightful confluence of atmospheric synths, deep basses, reverb-laden and distorted guitars and dynamic drums. The recurring themes of existentialist disquiet come together revealing the introvert nature of the artist, who is a curious sound researcher moving through captivating and magical soundscapes.

Ellereve is available in full band line-up as well as with a special acoustic set.